'La Noche' is the result of a series of collaborations between multidisciplinary artists from London's creative community, The Latinxs Collective at University of the Arts London, and artists from the contemporary UK Latinxs Music scene. These collaborations will be manifested as six performances involving digital art projections and fashion within a live musical performance at 'La Noche' concert on the 12th of February 2022. We aim to showcase the UK Latinxs talent, host a space for creatives to establish personal connections and transcend as professionals into London's industry.
