

ARTS SU STUDENT TRUSTEE- ADVERT

Gain business and finance experience whilst helping your mates.

If you want to gain skills that will help in the business aspects of the art world you should consider applying to be a student trustee at Arts SU.

The SU exists to make things better for students – offering a voice in the university, support on your course and events after lectures finish. This work is overseen by a Trustee Board who consider the finances and legal aspects of running the organisation.

There's space on our Trustee Board for three student members and you will receive training and support within the role. You don't need any particular background, just a desire to make things better, be willing to give you opinion and to learn new things.

If you want to setup a business, understand what can be involved in selling your art or knowing what support staff might need, then this opportunity could be for you.
